

Adyashanti ~ Unconditioned love

What is it to fully pour ourselves into life as an act of love?

What is it to fully receive this love that redeems all confusion and heals all wounds?

The spiritually awakened life is one of transcendent wisdom and redemptive love. While transcendent wisdom is realized by dropping one's attachment to body and mind, redemptive love is an infinite embrace of the entire human condition. It is literally to pour ourselves into life as an act of love. Such love has the power to redeem all that seems broken, separate, and wounded. Redemptive love is not something that the ego can create or manufacture. It comes as a gift and as a grace bestowed upon us when we begin to open our heart in an honest and intimate way to the hidden love flowing through all of creation.

Awakening to the potential of redemptive love has the power to change our entire relationship to life. It opens up a perspective where we realize that each one of us is an expression of love that has the power to redeem, or liberate, all that is broken and in conflict. And redemptive love is the means through which we embody and express the transcendent wisdom of spiritual awakening.

Love is the radiance pouring forth from the heart of eternity. It is not simply meant to be received, but to be embodied and poured forth into this world for the sake of all beings.
